Nearly every case in which we have become involved has been successfully resolved. We continue to be involved in a wide range of matters nationally and internationally, including complex commercial disputes, intellectual property matters, class-actions, institutional sex abuse matters, financial institution litigation, shareholder disputes, among other matters.

We have been retained at every stage of a dispute – pre-litigation, during litigation, immediately pre-trial, and on appeal. More and more, we find our clients seeking our involvement at the outset of a potential risk event. Our efforts often result in quick and quiet resolution of potential disputes.
